ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce the following gentlemen as Democratic candidates for Congress in this, the Ninth District, at the State primary, August 5th, 1916:

HON. W. J. FIELDS, OF CARTER COUNTY
HON. J. W. RILEY, OF ROWAN COUNTY
HON. J. B. HILES, OF BRACKEN COUNTY
HON. H. C. DUFFY, OF HARRISON COUNTY

WHY CHANGE?

That Justice Hughes is a capable lawyer and a man of unimpeachable integrity, no one can deny. Neither can it well be argued that President Wilson is not a man of equal intelligence and spotless character. He also has the advantage of three years of trying experience, while Justice Hughes is an untired man of unknown views. President Wilson has successfully guided the old ship of state through troubled waters and we can see no reason for a change. On the contrary why "rock the boat" at this critical time? We have a safe and sane man at the helm, one who has been tried and not found wanting and this is no time in the world's history for experiments.

Recently several automobiles have sustained injury to their tires because of glass, tacks, nails, etc., being upon our streets. We feel sure such things are thrown there through thoughtlessness and that there is nothing willful in it. A little more care in this respect, however, on the part of the public will doubtless be much appreciated by all automobile owners.

BLUE GRASS CLIPPER

IS SOLD BY COOPER

Midway, Ky., July 28.—The Blue Grass Clipper has changed hands. A deal was made Thursday by which J. O. Cooper, the editor, transfers the paper to J. D. Nunnally and Irvill Glass, of Georgetown. Mr. Nunnally has been for some time local editor of the Georgetown News and Mr. Glass has been employed by Mr. Cooper for sixteen years. The firm has a job printing office in Georgetown.

In the forty years of its existence the paper has changed hands several times. In September, 1898, Mr. Cooper took full charge of the paper and has conducted it for a longer time than any previous editor, more than seventeen years. He is now giving it up because of illness.

Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, issued a statement Saturday in which he showed convincingly that the Democratic party is the one available instrument for Progressive service, predicting that the great body of voters who identified themselves with the Progressive party in the hope of promoting a definite set of principles will now look to the Democratic party as the party of progress.

THE KENTUCKY FUTURITY

(By Jesse Shuff.)

At Cleveland and Detroit promising candidates for the $14,000 Kentucky Futurity which is the feature of the $100,000 program at Kentucky's Trots at Lexington, October 2-14, made their appearance and promise to give Vokga, the unbeaten sensation of last year, a stiff argument. At Cleveland Expressive Lou, daughter of the world's champion trotting mare, Lou Dillon 1:58½, won the three-year-old trot from Harrod's Creek and a good field but at Detroit the following week Harrod's Creek turned the tables on her but not until she had set the season's record at 2:08¼. Harrod's Creek is by General Watts, former champion three-year-old and Kentucky Futurity winner. These and many others will meet in the big race at Lexington. One of the features is the Board of Commerce for free-for-all pacers in which Single G. 2:00¼, Russell Boy 2:00¼, Napoleon Direct 2:00¼, Anna Bradford (3) 2:00¼, etc., will start.

Strayed—Five yearling cattle, weight about 500 pounds, from the George Snyder place on the Winchester pike. One is a Jersey male, one a red heifer with warts on neck and three are steers.

THE FIRST PAPER

When Adam's Eve began to do the housekeeping for Adam, she had no cares such as pursue the Modern Adam's madam. She did not know what was the rage, because there was no Woman's Page.

She did not get a Daily Hint from Paris full of passion to start her on a daily sprint to keep up with the fashion. She did not haunt the beauty stores in order to keep open pores.

When Adam came home at night (he was no worried plodder!) he did not shiver lest he might be served with curious fodder. There were no papers, so you see there was no Household Recipe.

Old Adam was a happy bloke and lived a life most cheery. He did not know that he would choke one day with his bacteria. Adam and Eve had never read Health Articles to scare them dead.

Eve never went through Adam's breeks when he was sweetly dreaming, because there were no Bargain Weeks to tempt her to such scheming. The serpent thought she was a goose. She was too good for any use.

The serpent was a clever brute. Though he'd not been through college, his sanctum made him mighty cute. It was the Tree of Knowledge. "Aha!" he said, "I'll publish, free, The Daily Eden Apple Tree!"

The first edition raised a row whose schandl shocked creation. Since that first issue Adam's brow is wet with perspiration. It told the scandal, rich and rare, that Eve had not a thing to wear!—From the Mergenthaler Lines O' Type News.

HUNTERS, BE CAREFUL

The dove season does not open this year until September 1st. Heretofore doves could be shot beginning August 1st, but this law was changed at the last session of the Legislature. As the fine is rather heavy and the game wardens have instructions to keep a close watch hunters had best acquaint themselves with the game laws as amended.

Some courage is needed to be natural and a higher kind of courage, too, than that which marches behind the safe end of a gun. The moral courage which is not intimidated by appearance nor cowed by custom is a finer article than the daring of the speculator, or the steady nerve of the soldier in physical peril. It takes bravery of the best stamp to be true to oneself.

Many of us miss the joys that might be ours by keeping our eyes fixed on those of other people. No one can enjoy his own opportunities for happiness while he is envious of another's. We lose a great deal of the joy of living by not cheerfully accepting the small pleasure that comes to us every day.

FLOWERS HAVE FOOD VALUE

Scientific Men Have Proved That a Great Many of Them Are Edible and Delicious.

The food of flowers is a matter just beginning to interest the scientific world. Violets are said to contain considerable nourishment. They formed the basis of a refreshing drink, and in other forms figured conspicuously in the feasts of the ancient Persians. The modern confectioner crystallizes them in sugar.

The old Turkish confections made of rose leaves are declared delicious by those who have eaten them. A number of cooks have discovered that a handful of rose petals imparts a flavor of unparalleled delicacy to desserts of many kinds.

For those who do not care for sweets, the gayly-colored nasturtium offers delights to the palate. It may be used as a filling for sandwiches, mixed judiciously with other materials in salad. Its delicious pungency appeals to the epicure, while physicians say it aids digestion.

A favorite Italian dish consists of fried squash blossoms. When properly prepared this food is both appetizing and nourishing. The yellow blossoms of the common field pumpkin may be cooked in the same way, and to some tastes are even more pleasing.

DECLINE IN FRENCH POETRY

Prose Has Superseded It in the Favor of the People, Is an Opinion Given.

It is a fact that the French mind uses prose as its readier instrument, and it is also a fact that at this present moment, when the French spirit reasserts itself, poetry is far in the background compared with what it was at the beginning of Romanticism, when Hugo, Lamartine, Musset and Vigny occupied the front part of the stage.

There are more poets than there were at any period of French literature, and their average work is superior to what it was in the nineteenth century; but poetry is not popular, and the best known poets, the most successful—say, Henri de Regnier and the Comtesse de Noailles—do not reach the twentieth part of Victor Hugo's public.

COLORED CROSS IN SKY.

There was considerable excitement about this section all day over the appearance in the western sky of a rainbow-colored cross, and Bible students have been searching for something that would enlighten them on the matter. The Book of Revelation has been scanned and ministers called up, but up to this time the sign has not been interpreted satisfactorily.

The superstitious naturally foresee continued wars all over the world, and, within 1,000 years, the end of the world. Those who saw it, as the sun came up, say it was a perfect cross of brilliant colors.—Woodbury (N. J.) Dispatch Philadelphia Record.

TOO DEEP FOR HIM.

"No," murmured the man who occasionally lets out an audible thought, "I can't understand it." "Can't understand what?" queried the party who had overheard. "Why a woman will weep at the imaginary woes of a stage hero and laugh at the real woes of her husband," explained he of the noisy thoughts.

IMPOLITE GEORGE.

Caller—That's a very good cake, my dear; did you make it yourself? Hostess—No, I didn't, and I'm never going to make another cake. George was perfectly horrid about the last one. He broke a tooth over it, and said I ought to be making munitions.

MUCH THE SAME.

"My life," said her husband, "is like an open book." "That's right," replied his wife. "I can only see two pages at once."

OH, PIFFLE!

"What is woman's mission in life?" asked the suffragette. "Sub-mission," growled the scanty-haired bachelor in reply.

ENOUGH FOR A SQUARE MEAL.

Butcher—Will you have a round steak, ma'am? Mrs. Youngbride—I don't care what shape it is, so it's tender.

MAKING A NAME FOR A TOWN

The citizens of every town have it within their power to make or mar their own municipal name. It will be good or bad, just as they choose to make it.

We of this town are no exceptions to the rule, and the citizen who loves his own home will always bear it in mind.

There are many good points in favor of our community, and when the stranger comes to our midst we should not fail to impress these facts upon his mind.

We should take him in hand, exhibit the community as you would a blooded horse, let him understand that he is among a fair mindeo, energetic and generous hearted people, and when he goes to other climes he will speak as he has been spoken to.

That is the way reputations are made.

But there is another side, and it is there that mischief is too often done.

The stranger enters our door and we immediately begin to complain of the community and of the people.

Nothing just suits us. Nothing is as it should be. Everything is wrong and the town is on the way to the dogs.

And again the stranger speaks as he sees and hears.

That is the way reputations are destroyed.

Which is it to be with us?
